NUTRITION NOTES

- Naturally gluten-free and rich in plant-based protein, quinoa is a wholesome grain that offers fiber, iron, and magnesium—nutrients that help with energy production, muscle function, and digestion. Its complex carbohydrates also provide long-lasting energy, making it a great base for a balanced bowl.
- Seasoned with zesty lime and a touch of spice, chili-lime chicken brings bold flavor along with lean, filling protein. It supports muscle repair and satiety, while the lime juice adds a dose of vitamin C, which plays a role in immune health and collagen production.
- With its crisp texture and mild sweetness, jicama adds a refreshing contrast to the bowl. It's especially high in prebiotic fiber, which feeds healthy gut bacteria. A solid source of vitamin C, jicama also supports immune function and healthy skin.
- Corn contributes fiber and key antioxidants like lutein and zeaxanthin, which are known to promote eye health. It also provides B vitamins that help your body turn food into energy, supporting metabolism and overall vitality.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup cooked quinoa
- 1 cup cooked brown rice
- 1 pound cooked Chili-Lime Chicken
- 1 cup julienned jicama
- 1 cup frozen corn, thawed
- 1 cup pico de gallo
- 1 avocado, diced
- ½ cup chopped fresh cilantro
- Lime wedges
- Hot sauce, such as Cholula

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Preheat oven to 400°F. Line a baking sheet with foil. Place chicken on the sheet and season with chili-lime seasoning. Roast for 15 to 18 minutes, or until cooked through. Let rest before slicing.
2. Meanwhile, cook 1 cup quinoa with 2 cups water and 1 cup brown rice with 2½ cups water according to package directions. Let cool slightly after cooking.
3. Peel the thick skin from the jicama using a sharp knife. Slice into ¼-inch rounds, then cut into thin matchsticks. Prepare diced avocado, lime wedges, and hot sauce for serving.
4. Assemble the quinoa, brown rice, jicama, and sliced chicken into bowls or containers. Reheat as needed and serve topped with avocado, lime, and hot sauce.
